DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-12, 21, 31 and 36 are pending in the application.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12 and 31, drawn to a method of cancer treatment/prevention using a nucleic acid, classified in class 514, subclass 44.
 - II. Claim 21, drawn to method of preventing an allergic reaction using an immunostimulatory nucleic acid, classified in class 514, subclass 44.
 - III. Claim 36, drawn to a device for delivering an immunostimulatory nucleic acid, classified in class 435, subclass 283.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the inventions are unrelated methods because Invention I is drawn to preventing cancer, while Invention II is drawn to a method for preventing an allergic reaction. The instant inventions are unrelated because they have different functions and effects (i.e. preventing cancer vs. preventing allergic reaction), even though the inventions both involve the administration of nucleic acid molecule.
3. Inventions I and II are unrelated to Invention III. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation, functions and effects. For instance, Inventions I and II are methods for preventing cancer and allergic reactions while Invention III is a device for delivering a nucleic acid to a subject. The functions/effects of Inventions I and II are to prevent cancer and allergic reactions, respectively, while the function of Invention III is to deliver a nucleic acid to a subject.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the searches required for Groups I-III are not co-extensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. For instance, the search required for Group I includes a search of the field cancer, while the search required for Group II includes a search of the field of allergic reactions, and the search required for Group III includes a search of devices for delivering nucleic acid to a subject.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Currently, Invention I is generic,

Species of chemotherapeutic agents (listed in claim 3, must chose one agent)

Species of immunotherapeutic agents (listed in claim 4, must chose one agent)

Species of cancer vaccines (listed in claim 5, must chose one cancer vaccine)

Species of hormone therapies (listed in claim, must chose one hormone therapy)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1635

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
